Dear CFA Society Hartford Members,

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as your President for the 2015/2016 fiscal year. I must admit that, upon assuming this role in July 2016, I initially experienced some anxiety due to the significant responsibilities of the position. However, I soon realized, that, thanks to the groundwork laid by my predecessors as well as significant continuing contributions from Board colleagues and other committed volunteers, many CFA Society activities have become second nature to us, and the organization almost runs itself. Indeed, activities and events that we now accept as routine were initially novel or intermittent efforts. Our evolution is described below:

- A number of years ago, the idea of an Annual Forecast Dinner was hatched by a group of CFA Society volunteers. This has grown into our annual gala event that attracts almost 500 attendees. The event continues to be superbly organized by our Forecast Dinner/Sponsorship Committee with support from our Executive Administrator, Rebecca Taylor.
- Sam Chang conceived the idea for our first Investor Conference almost ten years ago. Today, the Fall and Spring Investor Conferences form an integral part of our regular programming. This year, they included conferences on International Investing and Retirement, both of which were master-minded by Ric Filippelli.
- With assistance from Shankar Shivakumar, I initiated the CFA Society’s first Research Challenge in FY 2013/2014. In its first year, we had only five participating university teams. This figure has grown to ten teams with a concomitant team of professors, industry mentors, judges and graders. Many thanks to all of them and to John Fuller our Education Chair in FY 2015/2016! Thanks also go to the Barnes Group for agreeing to be the subject company and providing an opportunity for the winning team to make a presentation of their research to the Chairman.
- The CFA Society Hartford regularly arranges “Careers in Finance” panels at local universities. John Fuller continued this important work in FY 2015/2016 with career panels at the University of Connecticut and Central Connecticut State University.
- In FY 2014/2015, Pam Minish arranged a new Financial Literacy Initiative in conjunction with Junior Achievement, amassing a team of fifteen volunteers to volunteer in local elementary schools. Pam’s efforts continued in FY 2015/2016 and she has passed the baton on to Jim Newman for the coming year.
- Ray Bovich first conceived of adopting an existing “orphan” road race several years ago, an effort which has culminated in assuming the lead sponsor role in the August 6, 2015 CFA Society Hartford Corporate 5K run. The race benefits The Connection, a Hartford-based nonprofit, social services organization and advances our efforts to improve engagement with the Greater Hartford business community and to elevate awareness of the CFA designation. This will continue to be an annual event for us.
- Our Program Chair, Shankar Shivakumar continued to pursue innovative programming at attractive venues. Topics included Fixed Income Markets, The Risk Landscape, Meditation for Investments, and Behavioral Finance. Locations included On 20, Hot Tomatoes, and Flemings. Our strong financial condition allowed us to provide value to members by reinstating free socials and increasing the frequency from two socials per year to four.
- Our new Charterholder ceremony was held like clockwork at the Society Room in Hartford under the able guidance of Shannon Carbray and, for the first time, we published an advertisement in The Hartford Courant congratulating new Charterholders.
- The CFA Society Hartford continued to reach out to other local societies by arranging a joint social with the CFA Society Stamford and co-hosting the Research Challenge with the CFA Society Providence and the CFA Society Stamford.
- Behind the scenes, your Board met on a monthly basis. The Advisory Council, under the direction of Ned Steiger, met semi-annually and the Investment Committee ably managed our resources. Members participated in CFA Institute Leadership Conferences in San Diego and Hong Kong, as well as the CFA Institute Annual Meeting in Montreal and an Advocacy Meeting in Washington D.C.

To better align with our strategic goals, we added some new initiatives and discontinued some old ones in FY 2015/2016 as described below:

- Significant progress was made on a branding campaign in conjunction with the CFA Institute. The local initiative was spearheaded by Lisa Piker. The message is to communicate the importance of the CFA charter with the message that three simple letters mean so much more than the words behind them. Please look for our messages in The Hartford Courant and programs at the Bushnell.
- Gail Bruhn worked with local universities to establish a CFA curriculum.
- We replaced CFA exam study sessions with a mock exam that attracted almost thirty test takers.
- We discontinued our annual post-exam event as attendance had been disappointingly low for several years.

The 2015/2016 fiscal year culminated with our Annual Meeting, held at Pond House in Elizabeth Park in June. The event attracted a healthy attendance from our members and included a formal presentation on the year’s accomplishments. John Fuller was recognized with the Volunteer of the Year Award. We also recognized outgoing Board members, Ned Steiger and Shankar Shivakumar and thank them for their contributions.

The CFA Society Hartford conducted a member survey at the end of the year to measure member satisfaction. Although the response rate was lower than anticipated, respondents reported a high satisfaction level and we received valuable feedback. My favorite response quote was, “Great organization and special thanks for all the people that work so hard to keep it going.”

I too would like to thank the many volunteers who helped make FY 2015/2016 a success. I encourage others to consider becoming more engaged with the CFA Society Hartford going forward. With your commitment, we hope to add new faces to this roster in the year ahead.

Sincerely,

In April 2014, the CFA Society Hartford Board and volunteers completed a comprehensive strategy planning session. The goal was to review the mission statement and objectives of the Society, and to develop a three-year strategic plan. The result was a comprehensive set of goals to guide the Board and serve members. The following were determined as priority objectives:

Enhance the existing program structure to increase member satisfaction. We believe we can increase attendance at our programs by identifying segments of membership and targeting events to serve each segment. The monthly speaker series program will be given more structure and thoughtful preparation with the goal to attract new attendees. We will try and establish a speaker bank to improve access to quality programming.

Enhance the Society’s governance by leveraging the experience and skills of our members. Develop an Advisory Council to provide guidance for strategic issues. This committee will be comprised of Past Presidents and other leaders in our community that can add value to the operations and help advocate for the Society in our region.

Improve our Volunteer Management Program. Bring greater definition to the roles and responsibilities available to volunteers. There is a broad array of “jobs” available for all levels of volunteer commitment. We will try to improve matching those openings with willing volunteers, communicating outstanding positions, recognizing a job well done, maintaining a single source of contact information, and improving guidance when needed. We will work on creating a Volunteer Manual.

The Board welcomes new volunteers willing to share their skills for a single event or for ongoing support. There are many skilled and experienced members in the CFA Society Hartford; we encourage you to become a volunteer and share your skills.
