

WAYNE JETT is managing principal and chief economist of Classical Capital LLC, a Pasadena CA registered investment advisor engaged in economic analysis and asset management services. He is a member of the CFA Institute and the CFA Society of Los Angeles, and speaks to CFA chapters nationally on the subject of monetary policy reform. His 2000 book A General Theory of Acquisitivity provides theoretical, moral and ethical support for classical (supply-side) economics. In private law practice 1970-1999, he argued cases in the Supreme Court of the United States, the U. S. Court of Appeals, and the federal and state trial and appellate courts. He has led seminars in supply-side economics for CFALA and for Security Analysts of San Francisco, and speaks and writes on constitutional and economic topics. Two of his essays on U. S. economic history and monetary policy are available for review at www.supplysideforum.com. Email: wjett@charter.net.
